

TRIZIA GINARELLA EAVENSON, ESQUIRE

Attorney Trizia G. Eavenson is the founder of Eavenson Law, LLC. Eavenson Law is a unique law firm, providing personalized, exceptional litigation and legal counseling, both in-person and in high-resolution digital format. Trizia is also an experienced Mediator, delivering top quality, niche market Mediation. Trizia was previously a founding partner of Moore Eavenson Baughan, PLC. For the convenience of her Clients and potential Clients, Trizia schedules meetings, Mediations, training workshops, and life coaching sessions in person, via Zoom, Microsoft Teams, FaceTime, and other conferencing platforms.

Trizia is proudly Puerto Rican and Italian. Her parents met one another in the Bronx, New York, when they were just 11 years old – her Mom hailing from Vega Alta, Puerto Rico, and her Dad emigrating via the SS Independence from Trani, Italy. Trizia’s parents married at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Her parents are both United States Air Force disabled Veterans of the Vietnam era. Trizia was born in the Bronx, and raised in Italy, Puerto Rico, Germany, and Tampa, Florida.

Growing up in Europe and Puerto Rico, coupled with traveling the world, forged Trizia’s enormous sense of gratitude for the United States and the inalienable rights guaranteed by our Constitution. Her extensive life experiences also developed her love and passion for law, justice, and teaching. Trizia advocates for fair and impartial courts, upholding the Constitution, equal access to justice, and protecting individuals rights. Trizia trains judges and lawyers on how to teach the Constitution, our individual rights, precedent, and the law to students beginning from VPK to the college.

Trizia grew up speaking, writing, and reading English, Italian, and Spanish as her native languages. Trizia graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from The University of South Florida, and proudly earned a Juris Doctor degree from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University College of Law, cum laude. Trizia was crowned Ms. Tampa in 1997 on the platform of legal advocacy of abused and neglected children. A firm believer in a strong work ethic, Trizia has worked in the legal field since 1993, starting from the bottom up, beginning as a “temp” in a bi-lingual law firm, answering phones, throwing out trash, and cleaning toilets, to becoming a paralegal, and continuing to work as a paralegal/law clerk as she attended law school in the evening program. Trizia has been a certified Guardian ad Litem since 1993.

A passionate trial attorney, Trizia’s practice encompasses multiple areas of civil litigation, including, but not limited to, catastrophic personal injury; wrongful death; medical malpractice; corporate and business law; defective medical devices; real property; property exemptions, taxation and valuations; government and administrative law; Constitutional law; premise liability; contracts; products liability; animal law; construction law; and Veterans law. Over 15 years ago, Trizia created an exhilarating program, “Be The Diamond,” mentoring and inspiring individuals of all ages within all walks of life with “real talks,” “pay-it-forward” fashion, and enriching skill sets to enhance the superheroes we already are but may not yet appreciate due to adversity. “Be The Diamond” works directly with all demographics to nurture self-worth and find one’s “YES” in life. Trizia is a firm believer in polishing yourself up to shine, and that pressure and heat either crushes you or makes you a diamond. Trizia encourages you to not be just any diamond, but rather standout and “Be The Diamond.” She is proud of her work with students ranging from VPK through colleges/universities, as well as with adults, to boost their self-esteem through leadership mentoring. Trizia focuses on the “4 P’s” – Passion, Perseverance, Perspiration/Pain, and Preparation – as well as themes of never giving up, resisting casualization and disconnection, avoiding excuses, self-responsibility, dressing appropriately for life’s adventures, and how to find one’s “why.” Trizia has joyfully volunteered thousands of hours and donated vast amounts clothing and shoes to facilitate empowerment in others.

Noteworthy Skills

Before sitting for the Florida Bar, Trizia polished her trial skills, working as a CLI for the Brevard County State Attorney’s Office, where she frequently tried cases to verdict on behalf of the State. While at the State Attorney’s Office, Trizia was honored to advocate on behalf of “Ella” in a high-profile animal cruelty case. Ella was a beautiful white German Shepherd inhumanely left to die, locked in her crowded crate at home. Trizia drafted the in-depth Memorandum of Law in Opposition to the Defendant’s Motion to Suppress Evidence, citing the exigent circumstances which allowed police to enter the premises without a warrant. The trial judge sided with the State and denied Ella’s owner’s Motion to Suppress. On appeal, the High Court agreed with the trial judge’s decision, which included the Court’s heavy reliance on Trizia’s Memorandum of Law.

During her last year of law school, Trizia gained immense legal knowledge as a Judicial Law Clerk for numerous prestigious Orange County judges, including now Fifth District Court of Appeals Justice, The Honorable Jay Cohen, and Chief Judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, The Honorable Lisa T. Munyon. In law school, Trizia founded and was the President of the Federalist Society, active as a Moot Court Competitor, and an Executive Board Member of the Hispanic American Law Student Association (HALSA). Trizia “booked” Trial Practice, Insurance Law, Business Organizations, and Eminent Domain, receiving the highest grade in those classes.

Multi-Dimensional and Reflective Like a Diamond

Trizia has faced, and continues to tackle, extensive health challenges that would normally prevent one from achieving their goals. This adversity simply fortifies Trizia’s resolve, strengthens her compassion, and intensifies her passion for serving others. Trizia is determined to leave a legacy of kindness, public service, grit, and problem-solving. Trizia truly believes that one never needs to unscrew another’s lightbulb to make themselves shine brighter. Self-reflection, passion in law and for life, personal connections, and perseverance are truly the tenants by which Trizia lives.
